Our Story

The vision for The Hope of Jesus Children's Home was born from a desire to reflect God's character as a helper and defender of the fatherless. By providing an atmosphere where orphaned and abandoned children can learn to love the Lord their God with all their heart, soul, mind and strength, we help our children fulfill what Jesus called the most important commandment (Mark 12:29-30).

Through a partnership between the Honduran church and international faith-based organizations, the mission of The Hope of Jesus Children's Home is being accomplished. Children who otherwise would be living on the streets or in a government institution are now finding hope through the love of Jesus and the outstretched arms of our compassionate staff.

In addition to our four family homes, the Hope of Jesus Children's Home has developed a 40-acre working farm. Hope Farm includes seven acres of shade-grown coffee plants, dairy and beef cattle, chickens and a variety of other crops. Our farm provides food and a small annual income for the children's home. You can help our children by purchasing gourmet Honduran coffee online at www.HopeFarmCoffee.com

Their Home

Our children at The Hope of Jesus Children's Home are provided a safe and loving home within a family setting and are cared for by mothers who raise them to know Christ. Some of our children have no recollection of their biological parents and our staff are the only family they know. As part of our "Hope Family," all of our children learn age-appropriate responsibilities and life skills while doing chores such as cooking, cleaning and helping at our farm. They attend school in our community and are given the opportunity to complete a bachelor's or technical degree in an area of their choosing. Their formal education is supplemented with instruction in the Bible, the English language and the use of computers. Our Hope Family is rapidly growing, and we are in great need of your prayers and financial support through our sponsorship program.
